The MAC's new show explores the creative possibilities of light.

The MAC glows big with the upcoming exhibit, Starry, Starry Nights: Five Light-Filled Installations. The emphasis is on luminosity, natch, and artists including Adela Andea, Chris Lattanzio, Jeremy McKane, Susie Rosmarin and Billy Zinser deliver with bright, literal and figurative translations. Watch for Zinser's 20-foot-tall "Macrodon" inflatable sculpture on the roof of the MAC—you can't miss it! And, we're also loving Andea's fluorescent tube wall sculptures. Talk about inner and outer radiance! Check out the opening reception on Saturday, April 23 from 5pm to 7pm. The exhibit continues through May 14. 3120 McKinney Ave., 214.953.1212, the-mac.org
